

Students of the Month - September 2019 - Communicators

Grade	Student	Reason
6th Orange	Jaden Marsalla 	Jaden makes a daily effort to participate in classroom discussions every day. He confidently articulates his thoughts and is not afraid to take a risk in sharing his ideas. Jaden works well with others, going out of his way to help his teachers or classmates.
6th White	Chris-Ukpono Ibok 	Chris communicates effectively both orally and in writing. He asks clarifying questions and seeks to understand both assignments and larger concepts. Chris listens carefully when working with a partner and remains open-minded when exposed to new ideas.
6th Yellow	Leilani Killian 	Leilani is a wonderful communicator both to her peers and adults. She works effectively in collaborative groups and makes sure that not only does she communicate her own ideas, but that others also have a chance to contribute. Additionally, Leilani is a responsible student athlete who always communicates with her teachers in advance when she is going to miss class to travel with her team.
6th Blue	Ansh Kaushal 	Ansh is a staunch advocate for himself. He is polite, considerate, and principled in his actions. This September, he advocated for himself in a positive way to help him be part of the #bekind social.

6th Black	Sydney Hanna 	Sydney is a great example of an IB Communicator. She explains her thinking clearly, she asks thoughtful questions, and she advocates for her needs with confidence. Sydney uses a respectful tone with her peers and makes eye contact when she speaks and listens to others.
7th Black	Isabel Haglund 	Isabel Haglund is a great communicator. She uses her talents as the President of Journalism Club. She helps classmates when in need and can work with almost any classmate. She owns her voice and clearly communicates with others.
7th Orange	Zachary Taylor 	Zachary is always positive about what he says. He edifies and builds up others. He expresses himself clearly and confidently. Zachary collaborates well both in small groups and in classroom discussions; our classrooms are better because he is in them. Zachary also serves as a Cedar Leader.
8th Orange	Arianna Appleby 	Arianna is a helpful young woman to both staff and students. She asks intelligent questions during discussion and while working on quiet tasks. She is an eyes-up listener and a hard worker. Arianna is strong in collaboration skills and is a creative confident speaker. She is great at expressing her opinions logically, kindly, and with enthusiasm and listens intently to the viewpoints of others.

8th White

Samantha Williams
(Kiwanis)

Samantha is a kind, respectful, and responsible student who embodies all of the Raindevil traits. Samantha shares her mathematical thinking in Geometry and asks thoughtful questions. She is wonderful in discussions, is always attentive and listening, and can always be counted to communicate ideas and inquiries.
